THOMAS CARLYLE.

How He Took Misfortune—His Admiration of His Wife and Her Help to Him.

The following, from "Reminiscences," by Thos. Carlyle, throw much light on the character of that singularly-gifted man. He lent John Stuart Mill the manuscript of the first volume of his "History of the French Revolution," and Mill's servant took the precious MS. to light the fire with. The following paragraph refers to that great loss:

How well do I still remember that night when he came to tell us, pale as Hector's ghost, that my unfortunate first volume was burnt. It was like half sentence of death to us both, and we had to pretend to take it lightly, so dismal and ghastly was his horror at it, and try to talk of other matters. He stayed three mortal hours or so; his departure quite a relief to us. Oh the burst of sympathy my poor darling then gave me, flinging her arms around my neck, and openly lamenting, condoling and encouraging like a nobler second self! Under heaven is nothing beautifuler. We sat talking till late: "shall be written again," my fixed word and resolution to her. Which proved to be such a task as I never tried before or since. "I wrote out 'Feast of Pikes' (vol. II.) and then went at it. Found it fairly impossible for a fortnight; passed three weeks (reading Marryat's) novels, tried, cautiously, as on ice paper-thin, once more; and in short had a job more like breaking my heart than any other in my experience. Jennie, alone of beings, burst like a steady lamp beside me. I forgot how much of money we still had. I think there was at first something like £300, perhaps £280, to front London with. Nor can I in the least remember where we had gathered such a sum, except that it was our own, no part of it borrowed or given us by anybody. "Fit to last till 'French Revolution' is ready," and she had no misgivings at all. Mill was penitently liberal; sent me £200 (in a day or two), of which I kept £100 (actual cost of house while I had written burnt volume); upon which he bought me "Biographie Universelle," which I got bound, and still have. Wish I could find a way of getting the now much macerated, changed and fanaticized "John Stuart Mill" to take that £100 back; but I fear there is no way.

HIS WIFE'S LETTERS.

The whole of yesterday I spent in reading and arranging the letters of 1837; such a day's reading as I perhaps never had in my life before. What a piercing radiance of meaning to me in those dear records, hastily thrown off, full of misery, yet of bright eternal love; all as if on wings of lightning, tingling through one's very heart of hearts! Oh, I was blind not to see how brittle was that thread of noble, celestial (almost more than terrestrial) life; how much it was all in all to me, and how impossible it should long be left with me. I have asked myself, ought all this to be lost, or kept for myself, and the brief time that now belongs to me? Can nothing of it be saved then, for the worthy that still remain among these roaring myriads of profane unworthy? I really must consider it farther; and already I feel it to have become uncertain to me whether, at least this poor note-book ought to be burnt ere my decease, or left to its chances among my survivors? As to "talent," epistolary and other, these letters, I perceive, equal and surpass whatever of best I know to exist in that kind; for "talent," "genius," or whatever we may call it, what an evidence, if my little woman needed that to me! Not all the Sands and Elliots and babbling cox of "celebrated scribbling women" that have strutted over the world, in my time, could, it seems to me, if all boiled down and distilled to essence, make one such woman.

The curtains of a box in a Hartford variety theatre are drawn close together at the beginning of the performance each evening. Laughter and other noises are heard, and at length the manager, stepping to the footlights, warns the occupants that they must be quiet or quit. After an interval of silence the sounds of scuffling precede a pistol shot, a woman shrieks and the form of a man is thrown out on the stage; but it is only a man of straw, as the excited audience discovers.

The Government of the Dominican Republic are evidently satisfied that the bones discovered in 1877 in the Cathedral of San Domingo are really those of Christopher Columbus, for the sum of $10,000 has been voted toward the erection of a suitable monument, beneath which the relics will be deposited.

The Rev. H. B. Cook became more popular in ten minutes, at Slatersville, N. Y., by jumping into a swollen icy stream and rescuing a drowning boy, than by his two years of preaching in the town.

KISSING AT CARDS.

An Oculatory Game Now Fashionable in Paris.

From the N. Y. Times.

A Paris correspondent gives this account of a pretty game of cards now fashionable in that city: "The participants were young ladies and gentlemen who sat in equal numbers on either side of the table. The cards were dealt to each, and one hand, as in euchre, settled the wager. The wager played for in this game is that the lady or gentleman who gets the ace of hearts and can take a trick with it, or beat it with another card, has the option to kiss any lady or gentleman he or she may select. If a lady is the winner of the successful trick, this option may be used or not as she elects, and generally she does waive her right; but if a gentleman holds the lucky card, of course he invariably exercises his right. The result was that a gentleman, when he held the ace of hearts, was sure to get it passed: if a lady held it she almost invariably held it taken. It was quite a study to see with what sang froid a gentleman stood up to receive the stake he had won, and with what consummate grace the lady bent her head to one side so that her lucky opponent across the table should receive his full pound of flesh; not to mention the utter indifference of both to the presence of friends sitting around. I do not know how the players felt, but the watching of a few hands played was sufficient to satisfy me that it was but a poor game after all. How it came about I do not know, but I saw one gentleman win six games in rapid succession and kiss the same lady many times. It satisfied me that it was a game in which the cards could be so manipulated that a poor player or beginner could have very little chance."

Is thorough in its Medicinal Action, and yet so agreeable to the taste that patrons often disregard our injunction to divide the lozenge into parts (say two doses) to meet their respective cases. At the outset it is especially essential to observe the directions closely till one becomes accustomed to its use—when mild action and the most satisfactory results are sure to follow.

Ladies and children, and those who dislike taking pills and nauseous medicines to secure cathartic action, are especially pleased with its agreeable qualities. Try it once, and you will esteem it highly as a safe, pleasant, and effective remedy. Packed in bronzed tin boxes only.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The publication of bogus pork statistics in Europe has driven the porcine statisticians of Chicago wild with rage. The report has been spread abroad that a large percentage of American hogs are affected with trichinosis, and that the pork worm is ceaselessly gnawing at the vitals of the people of Illinois. The Secretary of the Illinois State Board of Health has published the following reassuring statement: "Since 1876 eleven deaths have occurred in Illinois by trichinosis, and in every instance from eating raw ham or sausage. As a sanitarian, I regard the danger to life from this source as practically amounting to nothing, it being so easily prevented by cooking. No doubt more deaths occur from many other articles of diet that are regarded as harmless, no record being made of the same."

President Garfield said in his inaugural: "Nor can any ecclesiastical organization be safely permitted to usurp in the smallest degree the functions and powers of the National Government." The Argonaut's Know Nothing eye caught this sentence as something aimed at the Roman Catholic Church. The Salt Lake Tribune, however, insists that the quotation refers to the Mormon Church, saying: "The Mormon leaders distinctly affirm that all merely earthly governments are illegal, openly claim their own infallibility and their right to absolutely rule their people in both spiritual and temporal matters, and openly declare their intention to eventually overthrow this Republic." A personal explanation from the President is perhaps the only thing that can avert bloodshed between Pixley and Goodwin.

That well-worn joke of General Butler's, that Whittaker "bit" his ear off himself, is still going the rounds of the rural weeklies. But public interest in Whittaker and his ear has about ceased. Yet the investigation of his case is still in progress. One day last week an expert testified that he believed the note of warning purporting to have been sent to the colored cadet was written by Whittaker, on these grounds: "That the note shows evidences of an attempt to disguise the handwriting; that letters in the note strikingly resemble letters known to have been made by Whittaker, and there are peculiarities in the writing of the note which correspond to the peculiarities of Whittaker's handwriting." These peculiarities, he explained, were produced by "nerve tremors."

The Parisians have discovered a remarkable American in their city, who is unknown to fame on this side of the Atlantic. Of "Senator Alfred Perkins" the Figaro says: "This Yankee is celebrated on account of a duel which he had some years back with an Indian chief, also a Senator, whose feelings he had wounded. The arms chosen were unusual, being two barrels of dynamite, on which the adversaries were placed, and to which two slow matches of equal length were attached. They were set on fire by the seconds. Ten minutes after, the Indian Senator was blown into the air, and then Mr. Perkins was immediately delivered from his perilous position by the seconds, who declared the claims of honor satisfied." Mr. Perkins has evidently been bestowing a little "taffy" on the Parisians.

Although James Showers was two years ago elected Sheriff of Mono county, California, he has just gained possession of the office, Taylor, the former Sheriff, having refused to retire. There was a legal dispute over the matter, growing out of the adoption of the New Constitution of California, and the Supreme Court of the State has just decided in favor of Showers, and declares him entitled to salary in full for the time during which he has been kept out of office.

"I have been, in my way, and in accordance with my convictions, an earnest advocate of temperance. Not in as narrow a sense as some, but in a very definite and practical sense," said General Garfield the other day. In other words, he does not believe in total abstinence. The Mrs. R. B. Hayes Temperance Society must be grieved. Wine will again be seen on the White House table. It has been pointed out that any wine in the White House cellar has been improved by the age it has gained during the administration of Hayes. But then again the probabilities are that President Grant left the cellar pretty dry.

Some amusing bulls have been made in the House of Commons lately. O'Connor Power, M. P. for Mayo, exclaimed: "Mr. Speaker, sir, since the right honorable baronet has let the cat out of the bag, there is nothing to be done but take the bull by the horns." Alderman Cotton said that "a great European struggle was so imminent that it only required a spark to let slip the dogs of war." The same night Mr. Forster said: "I will, Mr. Speaker sit down by saying," etc.

The Czar would not allow his lacerated legs to be amputated, but after his death the Russian surgeons got their work in on the corpse, trimming off the stumps in the most artistic manner known to the profession. They doubtless think it more honor to operate on a dead Emperor than a live Cossack. A capital operation will be soon performed on Rousasskoff, who confessed that he threw the bomb which wrecked the Czar's carriage.

William H. Vanderbilt is moderate in his desires, declaring that "after a man has a million, and has secured for his family all they require, he is as well off as if he had a hundred." How pleasant it is to find a man content with a little! Vanderbilt is like the man in O. W. Holmes' poem, who says:

"Give grasping pomp a double share,
I ask but one reclining chair."

The vicar of a village church near Gravesend, England, made a sensation in his church the other day. Observing a lady smiling scornfully at certain remarks in his sermon, he walked down to her pew and gave her a good shaking. Then he returned to the pulpit, and went on with his homily. It would hardly do for a minister to act so in this country.

The diet of professional pedestrians consists principally of lean beef and mutton, oatmeal and fruit. They give up the use of tobacco almost entirely, and never smoke when in a match. The best walkers never use spirits, but sometimes take a little brandy or champagne towards the close of a race.

The London postal service is so efficient that a letter can be sent five miles and an answer received and delivered, all within two hours. In New York and in San Francisco no one expects an answer to a letter, mailed for city delivery, until the following day.

If Garfield wipes out polygamy, he will need to do nothing else to earn the gratitude of the country, and he seems determined to wipe it out. It may be necessary to wipe out a few Mormons along with the institution, but that will be so much the better.

A carrier pigeon in 1880 flew between Cologne and Berlin, a distance of 295 miles in an air line, in five hours and twenty-seven minutes. No more rapid flight has ever been known. But wait till Marriott's Aeroplane gets on the wing.

James Gordon Bennett thinks of taking a turn around the north pole to look for the Jeannette himself. He proposes to have a ship built that may break down in time, but won't wear out in the ice floes.

According to the Republican, codfish "lungs and sounds" are for sale in Truckee. "Tongues and sounds" is the name of the dish so dear to the people of Cape Cod.

The Salary Act is not working well in Nye county. The deficiency in the Salary fund on March 1st. was $3,453 33.

LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

Passed by the Tenth Session of the Legislature, 1881.

CHAP. XIV.—An Act to punish and prevent deception in the manufacture and sale of butter.

[Approved February 4, 1881.]

The people of the State of Nevada, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Every person who shall manufacture for sale any article or substance in semblance of butter, that is not the legitimate product of the dairy, and not made exclusively of milk or cream, but into which the oil or fat of animals, not produced from milk enters as a component part, or into which melted butter, or any oil thereof has been introduced, to take the place of cream, unless the package containing such article or substance shall be labeled or branded with the word "Oleomargarine," as provided in Section Two of this Act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, and shall be confined in the county jail not less than thirty days nor more than six months.

SEC. 2. Every person who shall sell, or offer, or expose for sale, or have in his or her possession with intent to sell any of the said article or substance mentioned in Section One of this Act, shall distinctly mark, brand or label every package containing such substance, whether at wholesale or retail, with the word "Oleomargarine," and every person who shall sell, or offer for sale, such substance not so branded, marked or labeled, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, in any court in this State having cognizance thereof, shall pay a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars for each and every offense.

SEC. 3. The branding or marking spoken of in this Act, if on rolls or print, shall be in letters not less than one-fourth of an inch square, and if on tubs or other packages, the letters shall not be less than one-half inch square.

CHAP. XV.—An Act concerning the allowance and payment of demands against the several counties of this State and barring the payment thereof in certain cases.

[Approved February 4, 1881.]

The people of the State of Nevada, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. That when there shall be in the General, Contingent, Indigent Sick or Road Funds of any county in this State any sum or sums of money, which have been in such fund for the term of two years or more by reason of the failure or neglect of the owner or owners of such indebtedness to demand the payment of the same, such sum or sums of money shall be applied to the payment of the more recent indebtedness of such county payable out of such fund. And in case the owner or owners of such allowance or allowances shall demand such sum or sums of money within six years from the date of the original allowance of such sum or sums of money, and after such sum or sums of money have been so applied, the Board of County Commissioners of such county may again allow such demand for the amount originally allowed, without interest, and no more, and any such demand, so reallowed, shall be paid in the order of its reallowance thereof, in case there be any such fund, and in case there shall at said time be no such fund, then such demands shall be paid, in the order of its reallowance, out of the General Fund of such county, but should the payment of such sum or sums of money not be demanded within six years from and after the original allowance of such demand or demands, then such indebtedness shall not be reallowed by such Board of County Commissioners and the payment thereof shall be forever barred; provided, that nothing in this Act shall be construed to affect or repeal any Act providing for the redemption or funding of the indebtedness of any county in this State.

SEC. 2. All Acts and parts of Acts, in so far as they conflict with the provisions of this Act, are hereby repealed.

Willing to Share a Good Thing.

A Chicago paper has a flaming advertisement reading:

"Shenandoah Mining Company, capital stock, $3,000,000, three hundred thousand shares, $10 par value, full paid and non-assessable. Mine located on King Solomon Mountain, in San Juan county, Colorado. Vein is well defined, now being actively worked with three shifts of men, day and night. The Company expect from the developments made on this remarkable vein of ore, to commence the payment of dividends at no distant day. A limited number of shares of this stock is offered to the public."

That is the way they do it East.

Indefatigably Taught in Italy.

JOTTINGS.

—St. Patrick's day is not being celebrated in Reno.
—A dog was caught sucking eggs at Knust's store yesterday.
—The Reno Foundry is doing well. Mr. Fraser finds plenty of business.
—Gen. A. J. Hatch has resigned the Presidency of the N. & O. R. R.
—The Eureka Con. has declared its usual monthly dividend of fifty cents per share.
—The GAZETTE gained four new subscribers before breakfast this morning.
—Now that spring seems to have set in in earnest, the ladies will be found flocking to Sol. Levy's to invest in dry goods.
—With Ophir at 3 1/2, Mexican at 4 1/2, Bullion at 40 cents and Alta at 1.55, the stock market may be said to be on its back to-day.
—The river is steadily falling, and the familiar faces of big rocks in its channel have emerged from the stream. The water is running clear as crystal.
—New hats and bonnets will soon be in order for the ladies, and Miss Harney gives some suggestions on this point through the medium of a 50-cent ad.
—Reno Chapter will confer the Royal Arch degree this evening, and will entertain visiting brethren. A supper will be served at the Depot Hotel after the meeting.
—The store on Virginia street formerly occupied by Knust & Jones has been rented by Boegle of Virginia City, who is about to remove his stock of books and stationery hither.
—Mrs. M. Strong advertises that she will make shirts to order. Her advertisement met with a prompt response, as she secured an order for half a dozen before leaving the GAZETTE office.
—Officers against the peace and dignity of the State of Nevada have been rare so far this year. There have been very few arrests since last year. At present the docket of Justice Young is clear of all criminal cases.

A SUCCESSFUL ENTERTAINMENT.

The Congregational Church Crowded Last Evening—Scraps of the Programme.

The festival at the Congregational Church took place last night, and the house was crowded, even to standing room at the doors. The programme was so large that it is impossible to particularize everything. The following are remembered: Opening or greeting glee, by Mesdames Greely and Badenoch, Miss Munroe and Messrs. Ash and Patten; a series of tableaux; solo by Mrs. Powning; a piece of realistic acting, in a character song, by Miss Flora Finlayson and Master Fred Hagerman—"A Mother's Charge to Her Son;" "A Song of Seven"—No. 1, "Childhood," Dr. Dawson's little daughter; No. 2, "Girlhood and School," Miss Gould; No. 3, "Young Womanhood and Love," Miss Knowlton; No. 4, "Maturity," teaching her children, Miss Warren; No. 5, "Widowhood"—mourning the departed, by Miss Munroe; No. 6, "Giving Away the Bride," Mrs. Badenoch as "Mother" and Jessie Finlayson as "Bride"; No. 7, "The Aged One Longing for Home," Mrs. Powning. In this series there was pleasing acting and some excellent elocution. Then followed tableaux; song in character, by Mack and Helen Sample, "The Orphaned Match"—boy and girl. The piece of realistic acting by these two little children was effective and touching. A solo by Mrs. Stoddard, a trio by Misses Flora and Jessie Finlayson and Louise Mosher, and a quartette by Mrs. Badenoch, Miss Munroe and Messrs. Ash and Patten, were finely rendered. The ladies furnished a generous supper, to which justice was done by a generous public.

The affair was planned and directed by Mesdames Greely and Pierce, faithfully seconded and aided by all who took part; and if the reward of these workers be according to the happy rendering of their parts and the enjoyment of the audience, then they must feel themselves repaid for their faithful, arduous and self-imposed labors.

Truckee Trout for New York.

Eugene G. Blackford, the proprietor of Fulton Market, New York, has an annual exhibition in April of trout from all sections of the United States. Fish Commissioner Redding, of California, has had procured in this market some fine specimens of Truckee trout which will be expressed to New York to-night for Blackford's exhibition. One of the trout to go weighs ten pounds, a fish that will do no discredit to the State.

There is some analogy between fishing in the Truckee and mining on the Comstock. The trout seem to be strung along the river like ore bodies in a silver lode. You may fish in a great deal of barren water before you catch a trout, but when you do get one you have a piscine bonanza. And, again, you may hook a trout at the first throw of the line, or you may fish for days and days and catch nothing, just as the silver miner may find a bonanza at the surface or have to dig heaps of digging before he strikes ore.

The uncertainties of angling lend a certain fascination to the sport, akin to that trusting to luck which induces men to mine for silver. And as there are probably as good fish in the river as ever were caught, so, too, it is likely that there are as good bonanzas in the Comstock as ever were found.

Personal.
Mrs. J. M. Flannagan is very sick. Barney McClure and family went to Carson this morning.
Lawyers Cain and Webster, and D. R. Sheets, were passengers on the Virginia train this morning.
J. E. James, Superintendent of the Sierra Nevada, went west last night, on his way to Central America, where he will examine some mining property.

D. Banks McKenzie.

The Carson Appeal was mistaken in saying that D. Banks McKenzie had been performing in the Salt Lake Theater as Macbeth. There is an actor in Salt Lake named David McKenzie, and hence the mistake. D. Banks McKenzie is in Salt Lake, however, where he is lecturing on "Temperance" to immense audiences.

The Hay Market.

L. W. Lee, the man of hay but not of straw, furnishes the following quotations: Loose hay in stack, $8 per ton; baled, $12 1/2 to $16.

There is considerable loose hay of last year's crop yet unsold. Baled hay is abundant.

Mother and Child in a Virginia Court.

A sad scene was witnessed in the District Court of Virginia yesterday. Roxelena Lean had brought suit for divorce from Josiah Lean, and the legal contest in the case was for the custody of their only child, a bright little boy of three years, who was brought into court by his father. Judge Rising said that, pending the suit, the mother would be permitted to visit the child once a day. The Chronicle says that "Court being adjourned, Mrs. Lean" being a scene by catching the child up in her arms, and almost smothering it with kisses, at the same time weeping copiously. It was nearly an hour before her feelings were sufficiently calmed to allow her to take leave of the child. At the court-house door, where the last parting was had, the mother-in-law portion of this society drama was disclosed. Mrs. Button, who is Mrs. Lean's mother, was very indignant at the Judge's refusal to grant Mrs. Lean the immediate custody of the child. She almost incited a riot by vigorously proclaiming that she would like to see anybody try to take her child from her."

The Cattle Market.

Lee will ship four carloads of cattle bought from Bluebeck, to Moffatt Bros. to-night.
West Bros. have sold 136 head to Grayson, Harold & Co., at 5 1/2 cents. The cattle will be shipped on Saturday night. On the same night three carloads of cattle, said to have been bought from Evans and Dean, will be shipped to Dutch Flat for Frank Armagh.
To-morrow night eighteen carloads of cattle from Peter French will be shipped to Catlow & Co., of San Francisco. These cattle are delivered on an old contract.
Cattle men are reluctant to tell the prices paid for cattle. And sometimes a quotation furnished by the buyer will not entirely agree with that given by the seller. Generally it is like pulling up a tree by the roots to get a straight quotation from either party to a sale.

A Forty-Stamp Mill.

A new forty-stamp mill, says the Battle Mountain Messenger, is to be built at Lewis the coming summer. Mr. White, the gentleman who built the Grand Prize mill at Tascara, the McCracken mill in Arizona, and a number of others in different parts of this and other Pacific States, was up to Lewis the past week looking for a suitable site. The mill will be erected by an eastern company, will be run as a custom mill, and give employment to quite a number of hands.

Suit Recommended.

A new suit has been commenced against Farmer Dalton on the charge of creating and maintaining a nuisance in obstructing the road leading to Holcomb's ranch. Farmers figure so frequently as parties to actions in the local courts as to make it appear that the rancher's life in this valley is a litigious one. Much of the hay raised on the meadows goes to fatten the lawyers.

Fine Weather Again.

Everybody has been rejoicing to-day in the return of pleasant weather. A finer day than this has been it is impossible to imagine. Against the sapphire sky the summits of the grand Sierra, glistening white in their mantle of new-fallen snow, are outlined distinct and clear. The sunshine is warm and bright, and the winds are still.

Street Cars in Austin.

"Only one team of mules has been working on the street railroad to-day," gloomily writes the editor of the Austin Reveille. "On account of snow, hauling is pretty heavy, and ten mules are hitched on to a car instead of seven, the usual number, hence the cause of only one team being in operation."

Condition of Assemblyman Adams.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.
Assemblyman Adams, of Eureka, Nev., shot by Schander, is still alive, but there is little hope of his recovery.

Another Powder Explosion.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17.
The Eureka Powder Works at Berkeley, across the bay, exploded this morning.

Another Assessment.

Best & Belcher levies an assessment of fifty cents.

The Famous Opera Singers.

Annie Louise Carey and Clara Louise Kellogg are beyond question the most famous opera singers of modern times. In fact they have been universally acknowledged to be the leaders of their profession, as well as ladies of large experience and particularly good taste. They have probably traveled more extensively than any ladies on the stage, and as a consequence, have had excellent opportunities of judging of the merits of different countries and their productions. It is certainly a very great credit to California and the balmy semi-tropical climate of the Pacific, to have had them pronounce Slaven's Yosemite Coliseum by far the best they have ever used in any country. For sale by Osburn & Shoemaker.

The preparations now being made for emigration to the United States in various villages and provincial districts of Germany indicate that the influx to our shores in the next twelve months may be greater than even that of last year.

A physician at McLean, Ill., owed a woman $100, and suggested that she take pay in medical services. She remarked, at a quilling bee, that it would take a great many years of such a doctor's services to be worth $100. She is wealthy, and he has sued her for $10,000 damages for slander.

It is not unlikely that New Mexico will before long demand admission into the Union as a State. The Territory has of late increased very rapidly in American population, and the extension of the great railroad system is opening up for industrial work, large tracts hitherto inaccessible or very difficult to reach.

There has been some surprise that nothing was left in her will by George Eliot to her husband, Mr. Cross, but that all the money went to the family of her first husband. This was, however, an arrangement entered into previous to her second marriage, by the express desire of Mr. Cross, who is himself very well off.

Under the new military law the German standing army will have, in round numbers, 18,000 commissioned officers, 427,000 privates and non-commissioned officers, 1,700 surgeons, 600 veterinary surgeons, 650 gunsmiths, 800 paymasters, and 80,000 horses. Prussia furnishes 330,000 men; Bavaria, 50,000; Saxony, 27,000; Wurttemberg, 19,000.

One of the oldest churches on the American continent is the Tumacacochi Church, near Tubac, Arizona. It was built by the Franciscans in 1554, and has consequently reached the age of 327 years. Fifty-six years ago Indians murdered seven priests within its walls, and twenty-five years ago several priests came from Rome and dug from a sepulchre on the right side of the altar $80,000 in coin and jewels.

How public and as a matter of course the traffic in "black ivory" is carried on by the Dutch Boers in South Africa, Lord Kimberly recently showed in Parliament by a quotation from a letter written by the wife of a Boer, in which she states that a "Boer had come home with six head of cattle and one Kaffir girl, and that another came home with thirty-two large Kaffir girls, whom he was selling for half a sovereign apiece."
